Yanks Win 4th Fort at Metz

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—American infantry, hacking a new breach in fortifications south of Metz, captured Ft. Orny today and pushed to within three and a half miles of the besieged city.

Even as this fourth fortress fell, and all of Metz' roads of reinforcement or retreat were brought within artillery range, doughboys on the left flank of the 70-mile Third Army front shoved forward in their Moselle bridgehead to within one and a half miles of the German border near the Luxembourg corner.

South of Metz, the Seventh Army pushed forward in two-mile gains at either end of a 10-mile front, spreading the U. S. attack into the snow-drifted foothills of the Vosges mountains.

Doughboys of the 5th Division seized Ft. Orny, and pushed on into the Hopital woods in the closest approach to Metz. The assault arc against Metz from the south now extended nine miles from Ft. Orny to the town of Corny on the east bank of the Moselle.

Fifth Division units, punching through unexpectedly light resistance, had captured Ft. Aisne and two of its satellites near Verny yesterday, and seized the towns of Corni, Pommerieux, Verny, and Liehon.

Ft. Orny fell to the 10th Regiment of the 5th Division.

With capture of Fort Aisne and Corny, the Americans earlier had cut up behind formidable Fort Driant, on the Moselle's west bank.

The speed with which this division penetrated the German defenses south of Metz raised the question of whether the enemy actually planned to yield without a fight this strongest fortified city in all western Europe. A dispatch from supreme headquarters said the answer to this riddle may come within 24 to 48 hours.

In six days of Patton's new offensive, 5600 prisoners had been taken.

Southeast of Metz, German gains of up to a mile in counter-attacks seeking to save Dieuze were wiped out by elements of the 26th and four armored divisions, and the Americans added another mile in fresh advances. Doughboys now controlled almost half the Bride and Koecking forest astride a ridge dominating Dieuze.

Elements of the Sixth Armored Division rode into Vittoncourt, 12 miles southeast of Metz, in a mile push, and the 317th Regiment of the 80th Infantry in the same section won a half mile of ground, going into Arriance, 14 miles southeast of Metz.

Lash Jap Ships In Manila Bay

By Associated Press

Attacks on growing Japanese concentrations on Western Leyte island paid off with the highest one-day toll of Jap dead in the Philippines campaign, front line dispatches reported today as Tokyo radio said 400 U. S. carrier planes had renewed their attack on imperial warships in Manila bay.

On other fronts, Chinese troops advanced five miles in North Burma an da Pacific fleet communique acknowledged enemy forces had retaken an islet in the Palau group, east of the Philippines.

Tokyo radio announced waves of American planes struck at Manila bay, Cavite Navy Yard and Clark Field.

"There was some damage to our warships," principal target of the raiders, the broadcast said.

It claimed 34 U. S. planes and five Japanese weer shot down in an hour-long "violent air battle." Other U. S. air squadrons, Tokyo added swept the length of the Philippines.

On western Leyte island conquering riflemen of the 24th Division counted 640 Japanese bodies on the slopes of Breakneck Ridge, with a field of uncounted dead stretching out in front of them, Associated Press War Correspondent Fred Hampsen reported.

An American commander expressed belief the bloody battle, combined with night-long shelling of enemy concentrations at Limon, broke the northern Japanese force as a fighting unit.

Infantrymen were closing in from three sides on Limon, which Hampson reported was an apparently uninhabited mass of wreckage when the U. S. artillerymen ceased firing.

Elements of five Japanese divisions have been thrown into the narrowing fight on western Leyte island. Reinforcements are still slipping in by barge at night.

The new mountain, taken by the dismounted First Division cavalry outflanking the enemy, is Mt. Cabungangan. It represents a two-mile gain from Mt. Catabaran. From the two peaks artillery can sweep most of the Yamashita defense line and its supply trail.

In a resurgence action in the Palau group, 515 miles to the east, 200 Japanese reoccupied Ngeregong islet as a U. S. Marine patrol hastily withdrew without casualties.

The islet flanks Denges Passage into the Palau lagoon. U. S. warships immediately blocked the passage and heavily shelled the Japanese, Adm. Nimitz announced.

TIRPITZ CREW SAVED, SAYS BERLIN RADIO

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The great German battleship Tirpitz, sunk Sunday by British six-ton earthquake bombs, was "put out of action in shallow water just off the Norwegian coast" and a great part of her crew of possibly 1600 men was saved, the German communique asserted today.

The broadcast requiem for the 41,000-ton superdreadnaught said:

"The German battleship Tirpitz, engaged in protecting the north Norwegian coast, has repulsed in the last two years numberless air attacks by strong special British bomber formations and shot down a large number of enemy machines. On Nov. 12, the Tirpitz was again attacked by British planes with superbombs. The battleship, lying in shallow water just off the Norwegian coast, was put out of action. A great part of the crew was rescued."

Sinking of the Tirpitz is expected here to release additional strong units of the British home fleet for service against the Japanese in the Pacific.

With the Tirpitz sunk at her mooring by RAF bombers, all that remains of the German surface fleet is bottled up in the Baltic. These remnants include the pocket battleships Admiral Scheer and Lutzow, the eight-inch gun cruisers Hipper and Prinz Eugen, and four six-inch gun cruisers.

Outranked

SEATTLE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Capt. James Donlon, Jr., who survived the march of death on Bataan and two and a half years in Japanese prison camps, came home to learn that his wife had joined the WAC.

And Capt. Donlon soon discovered that she outranks him. She's a major.

Order Nazis Kill Officers Who Even Think Retreat

By FRANKLIN BANKER

WITH U. S. 2ND ARMORED DIVISION, WESTERN FRONT, Nov. 14 (AP)—A captured German document disclosed today that the Nazis had ordered all soldiers to shoot their comrades or officers instantly "like a dog" if they observe the slightest decline in battle morale.

The order was published in Scorpion, a Nazi news commentary distributed to troops. The order was specifically applied to any German contemplating surrender. It was attributed to Himmler, Gestapo head and commander of the German home army.

The Nazis acknowledged the critical position of the Reich in these words:

"Our will to resist is the only thing that we have left against the material superiority of our enemy until the new weapons are ready for the front. Therefore, whoever sabotages our will to resist must be smashed."

Scorpion said Himmler "for the first time has given the common soldier an opportunity to execute the will of the people even if he is forced to take up arms against his superior."

Considerable space then was devoted to adverse effects which the "no capitulation" order might have on military discipline, with every landser given carte blanche to shoot his officer or companion. Scorpion explained:

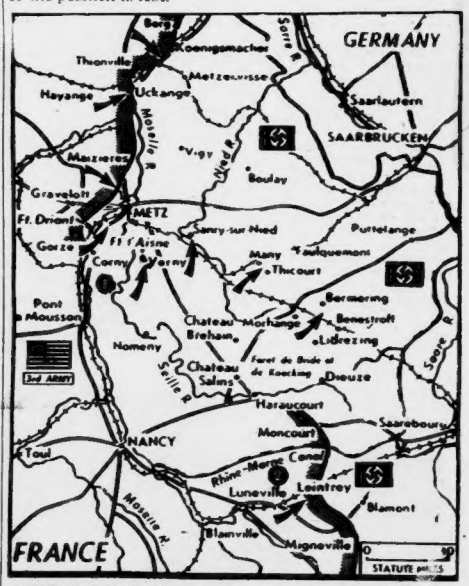
"An scruples that military discipline may be endangered by such individual action shall not frighten us. Even if it should happen that cowardly, treasonable elements take advantage of this right in order to remove unpopular superiors, this newly won liberty of action should not be restricted.

"Cases of Cowardly murder of superior officers which occurred during rear guard battles were due to that certain lack of discipline which accompanies every disorderly retreat."

Nazi soldiers were then cautioned aaginst allowing their "new right of unscrupulous action of degenerate into a state of chaos."

Scorpion summed up:

"If soldiers observe even the tiniest spark of softness or cowardice, that is the time to act and to eradicate the cancer before it causes disaster. If your responsible commander thinks or speaks about retreat, then you must act or the position is lost."



WESTERN FRONT—American troops closing in on Metz take Fort Corny (1) . . . and plunge to within 3½ miles of the besieged city. Other points taken in the Metz sector include Ft. Aisne, Ft. Corry Pommerieux, Verny and Liehon. To the southeast, in the (2) Luneville area, the Yanks gained two miles.

Reds Smash Into Big Rail Center

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW, Nov. 14 (AP)—Russian forces have driven into the important rail city of Jazbereny, 27 miles east of Budapest, and are fighting the enemy in hand-to-hand fighting, front dispatches said today.

The Germans were reported hurling in numerous new tanks and scores of anti-tank weapons in an attempt to check the Soviet drive to outflank the Hungarian capital.

The Nazis were offering the most determined armored resistance since the big tank clashes in which they were beaten back in the Debrecen area last month.

Red Army colums striking from the northeast after crossing the Tisza river apparently had made solid contact with the main forces of Marshal Malinovsky's second Ukrainian army, and were aiding in drawing the assault line close to Jaszbereny from the east, west and south

Front dispatches said the Germans resisted strongly, using panther tanks and flame throwers in an attempt to wipe out advanced Russian infantry elements. Despite the fierceness of the six miles northwest of Cegled, enemy opposition the Russians captured at least 10 towns, including the rail terminal of Jaszapati, 11 miles east of Jaszbereny and 45 miles east of Budapest.

Front advices declared that in the muddy tablelands southwest of Jaszbereny the Russians were less than 25 miles from the eastern limits of Budapest, but the attack had the character of a huge encircling movement rather than a frontal assault on the capital's defenses.

The Soviet war bulletin said the Russian drive around Budapest's eastern flank had swept

British in Italy Gain 2 Miles

ROME, Nov. 14 (AP)—British Eighth Army troops, thrusting northwest from Forli, have advanced two miles in some places, capturing the village of San Tome after bitter fighting, Allied headquarters announced today.

Other Eighth Army units which crossed the Ghiaia canal south of Revenna yesterday cut back across Highway 16, main coastal route, and captured German rearguards.

HER KIDNAPER HELD— Janice Ruth Peacock, 19 months, of Columbia, S. C., daughter of an Army lieutenant, whose kidnaper, Mrs. Clarence G. Kovianek, 16-year-old serviceman's wife, is being held under heavy bail in Federal Court, that city, after being found with the child in Raleigh, N. C. The youthful wife told court, "There is no use pleading not guilty, because I did it."

Hitler Dead, Alive? All World Wonders

Hopes of all freedom-loving peoples and the fears of restive Nazis evolved today around this greatest questionmark of the war:

Is Adolf Hitler dead, or has he at last broken mentally and physically?

From Russia, Switzerland, Sweden and London there came hourly claims that the Fuehrer's long and strange silence can mean only that he is dead, or at least powerless to direct his people's destiny.

Hourly came other claims—frantic claims—that he still is the leader of the German nation, but too busy for speechmaking. These latter claims came only from party leaders hoping to quell the growing wonder of 80,000,000 Germans who now must realize that their leader is at least temporarily out of command.

Today the Stockholm newspaper, Aftonbladet, quoted information that, "Hitler has had a shock, the right side of his body is paralyzed and his power of speech has been affected." The statement was relayed to the world in a Moscow broadcast picked up by CBS in New York.

It followed by 24 hours a Swiss report that four well known doctors have been at Hitler's side for four weeks. They were listed as Dr. Horle, his private physician; Dr. Zabel, chief medical officer of Hitler's staff; Prof. Orster, brain specialist who operated on the late Field Marshal Rommel, and Prof. Sauerbruch, one of Germany's most accomplished surgeons.

There is a rapidly growing conviction in London, International News Service reported today, that Hitler is no longer in control of the German armies or Nazi political affairs, that Gestapo Chief Henrich Himmler, the "hangman," is now de facto head of the Reich.

A Swiss correspondent of the London Evening Standard informed that paper Himmler has had printed an oath of allegiance to himself as commander-in-chief of all Reich defense forces which will be forced upon the German people at a moment propitious to him.

The German people have not heard Hitler's voice for about four months. The day following the bomb attempt on his life by an army clique, July 20, Hitler—or someone representing himself as Hitler—went on the air to say the plot had failed. Not since then has the Fuehrer spoken to his nation.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels has been devoting much time to convincing the people of the Reich and the world that Hitler is neither dead nor mad. A few weeks ago Goebbels was describing the dictator as in "excellent health" but so busy directing the war effort he could not take time to address his countrymen.

But only yesterday London recorded a Berlin broadcast by the Challenge Four Wilson Jurors

Four of the first five prospective jurors were challenged today as the delayed murder trial of John L. "Limey" Wilson, 28, and Francis J. Murray, 29, both of Charlestown, started before Judge Nelson P. Brown in Suffolk Superior Court.

James Needham, a supervisor, of Ashmont st., Dorchester, the second man called from the special venire of 100, was acceptable to both sides but of the others, two were challenged by the government and one each by defendant.

Murray was nattily garbed but Wilson was wearing dungarees and a blue sweater and his shirt was open at the neck. They are charged with slaying Mrs. Catherine McGinley, 84-year-old widow, in Charlestown, in November, 1942.

Delay in the trial came when Judge Brown conferred at length with prosecution and defense, and, after he had heard pleas to be excused from many of 100 prospective jurors, called in a special venire.

Presenting the state's case is Asst. Dist. Atty. Francis J. Hickey while Wilson is represented by Atty. Herbert F. Callahan and Murray by Atty. Francis Juggins. Both attorneys were appointed by the court.

The special venire, the first of its kind to be called here in a decade, listened to instructions from the court for a full hour while the prisoners were kept separately in cells outside. The men have been at Charles st. jail since their arrest last March.

Churchill Braves France Blizzard

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, accompanied by Gen. de Gaulle, this week visited the French First Army in the Jura mountains approaching Germany and in rapid succession:

1—A tire on his car blew out.

2—The chains came off on a perilous, ice-caked road.

3—The car was bogged down in a snowdrift.

"There surely is a limit to what the prime minister should be asked to do in such weather," said one member of the party.

Churchill stood without hat in a heavy snowstorm to receive cheers of the French people.

DECREE HERS—Mrs. Elise Sparrow Yawkey leaves court in Reno waving a decree which gave her a divorce from Tom Yawkey, millionaire lumberman and owner of the Boston Red Sox. Mrs. Yawkey, owner of a rare collection of diamonds, said she had "no immediate future plans."

Panic Sweeping Germany As Bankers Are Arrested

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Gestapo has arrested the managing directors of Germany's "two greatest banks," causing a panic in German financial circles "greater than the panic following the bank crash in 1931," the Swedish newspaper Stockholms-Tidningen said in an article reported today by the OWI.

The bankers were listed as Dr. Oswald Roesler, managing director of the Deutsche Bank, and Karl Goetz, managing director of the Dresdner Bank.

The newspaper said they were arrested for refusing to accept short-term German treasury notes "thus expressing doubt in a German victory." The story said people stormed the banks to withdraw deposits and big industries attempted to cancel their accounts."

Students of German intrigue have warned that "arrests" of prominent German bankers and industrialists are likely to increase. Such "arrests" would have the effect of protecting German leaders. When the Allies finally take over Germany these "arrested" key men could point out that they really were "enemies" of Hitler and thus should have a hand in rebuilding Germany.

Jap Likee Stork?

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 14 (AP)—The birth of a girl in Columbus, O., was responsible for a terrific mortar bombardment of Japanese near Breakneck Ridge on Leyte Island in the Philippines, Australian correspondent Reg Harris reported today.

Lt. James Crosswell of Columbus had just returned to his batteries from an observation post when mail was delivered. Crosswell opened two letters and let out a shout:

"Whoopee! It's a girl!"

When the mortar detachment heard the news, Harris reported, every crew dropped a shell into its mortar. It was one of the heaviest salvos of the campaign.

Eire Won't Agree To Bar Axis Exiles

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Eire has informed Britain it can give no assurance against granting asylum to political refugees from Axis countries.

Paul Emrys-Evans, undersecretary for the dominions, told Commons today Prime Minister Eamon De Valera, replying to Allied representations seeking to bar enemy war criminals from all neutral countries, took the stand his country would accept such fugitives should "justice, charity or the honor of the nation" so require.

De Valera made it plain, however, that Eire would deny admission to aliens whose presence would injure Irish neutrality or the interests of friendly states.

Nazi Big V-2 Out Too Late

Germany is apparently going down to defeat with a weapon of which it has too little too late, but which might have brought England to her knees if Nazi inventiveness had produced it earlier, some Americans in high places believe.

The robot bomb V-2, capable of traveling 5000 feet per second, almost a mile in the wink of an eye, has brought a Jules Verne touch to modern warfare. The Nazis hinted of their new secret weapon even while using the smaller V-1 flying bomb to blast England.

There was silence on the part of British officialdom. Some writers on this side of the ocean were inclined to think the team of Hitler, Himmler, Goering and Goebbels was at its old game of psychological warfare.

Then, Saturday, the British censor allowed American correspondents to write about the facts. And Americans learned that the V-2 rocket bomb has been landing in Allied sectors of Belgium and France as well as in London.

The previous day, in the House of Commons, Prime Minister Churchill confirmed Germany's boast that it had something beyond imagination for Secret Weapon No. 2. He added the new bombs had been falling on widely scattered points in England for several weeks.

They had caused casualties and damage which so far had not been heavy, he added.

One American who knew the facts was James F. Byrnes, director of war mobilization, recently returned to this country after a tour of the front. On the basis of what he had seen, he said in an Armistice Day speech at Columbia, S. C., there would have been little left of London if Allied forces had not invaded the continent when they did, June 6.

The first Nazi robot bombs killed 4735 English in seven weeks, seriously injured 14,000 more, destroyed 17,000 houses, damaged 800,000 others and forced 1,000,000 persons to evacuate London. Those were Churchill's figures as of Aug. 3.

Nothing definite about the new rocket bomb's toll to date has been passed by the censor, but Allied authorities have learned considerable about the bomb.

They believe it is a weapon of limited accuracy. But they know also it travels at such unprecedented speed it cannot be shot down like the V-1, for it cannot be seen.

The horror weapon carriees a warhead containing heavy explosives. It creates a far greater damage at the point of impact than the V-1 but has less blast effect on surrounding territory. It penetrates deeply, making a crater the size of a house. In London this would mean serious damage to gas and sewer pipes, electric conduits and telephone cables.

The V-2 does not require elaborate concrete installations for launching, according to information cabled here from the front. The Germans themselves boast of well camouflaged, mobile installations for it.

The rocket bomb is launched almost vertically from a ramp, attaining a height of at least 20 miles before going into the great arc of its course. It can go as high as 55 miles and hit a velocity surpassing the travel of sound.

The big question mark, particularly in the minds of Americans, perhaps, is how far can it go? Military commentators don't concede it an over-the-ocean range. Its limit probably is somewhere between 200 and 300 miles, they think. But many Bostonians had their moments of wonder when the coast was rocked by mysterious, still unexplained phenomena recently.

American military men acknowledge that Germany, having developed the bomb to its present status, conceivably can increase the amount of explosive in the warhead—and perhaps find an even stronger explosive.

But then it will be too late.

Black Book

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—Elmer Wheeler, author of eight books on salesmanship, says that tradesmen who specialize in snappy comebacks when asked for war-scarce items are slitting their own throats.

"When a customer says he would like a pack of cigarettes, don't snap 'so would I'," he advised 2000 retail grocers last night.

And, he added, "when a customer wants a pound of butter, don't yell: 'Hey, Joe—c'mere and take a look at this guy who wants a pound of butter. He doesn't know there's a war on'."

Wheeler warned that many customers keep a "black book" of such insults and resolve to take their trade elsewhere after the war.

Army Fliers Group Plans Norseman Air Line for N. E.

HARTFORD, Ct., Nov. 14 (AP)—The formation of Norseman Air Transport, an organization of men serving in the Army air forces and the ari transport command, and the group's desire to operate a New England air line was announced here today.

The announcement followed the filing of brief's with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington in support of an application for an airline covering about 2500 miles of routes touching more than 50 New England and New York State towns.

The board will consider this and 33 other New England applications at hearings starting Dec. 4.

Norseman Air Transport plans include the use of veterans in all operaitng positions possible and participation in ownership of the concern by each veteran employed.

A 23-year-old Army lieutenant, now based in England, Robert G. Averill of Longmeadow, Mass., is the concern's executive officer.

About 30 servicemen, ranging in rank from private to lieutenant, already have signed up as partners, each agreeing to invest a minimum amount.

They hope to obtain equipment from surplus government stock and have set 34 aircraft as their first-year goal. They plan to equip all planes for amphibious landings and to make water landings in 29 cities, including Providence and New London.

Major cities the group proposes to serve include Springfield, Worcester and Boston in Massachusette, Manchester, Nashua and Concord in New Hampshire, Portland, Lewiston and Waterville in Maine, Montpelier, Rutland and Burlington in Vermont, and Albany, Schenectady and Rochester in New York.

In addition to Averill, nine other Massachusetts men are known to be included in the organization. They are Howard K. Gebauer, Adams; Lawrence A. Keefe, Chelsea; Michael J. D'Angelo, Franklin; William C. Cook, Winthrop; Emile Dumont, Lawrence; Robert Demarest, Springfield; Arthur W. Byam, South Chelmsford; Bertram A. Dager, Lynn, and Leo J. Poprovo, Holyoke.

Eisenhower's Tank Loss 500 Monthly

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's forces are losing 500 tanks and 900 trucks a month, says Undersecretary of War Patterson.

Eisenhower is in "imperative need" of more artillery ammunition than we are producing, Patterson told a news conference, explaining the general should have 3600 tons a day for adequate support.

Patterson gave this general picture of the military supply situation:

Our artillery ammunition production has tripled since Jan. 1, but needs have risen even faster.

Other equipment essential if we are to intensify our offensives is running short, despite rising output.

We are short on tent cloth, airborne radar equipment, and other important items.

Our war production job is "still enormous," with hthe Army alone letting ntw contracts since Jan. 1 at a yearly rate of more than $28,000,000,000.

Battlefield stockpiles of some vital materials are being dented, because there are no reserves in this country. These materials are distributed as fast as they are produced.

The problem does not result because anyone is falling down, he said. Requirements were met on most parts of the supply program. Production has been rising even on those which are short.

"But it is not coming up fast enough," Patterson declared.

Revision of WLB Form Is Likely

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Proffered resignation of three War Labor Board key members gave President Roosevelt an opportunity today, if he chooses, to give a new form to the agency.

Chairman William H. Davis, Vice-Chairman George W. Taylor and Dr. Frank P. Graham, all original public members, have asked the President to relieve them of their posts.

The President now may revise the whole make up of the agency, replacing it with a board of all public members, or just representatives of labor and industry, with no public membership. Chairman Davis has said the ultimate goal should be toward the latter type.

CONGRESS OFF ON LAME DUCK LIFE OF EASE

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Legislators got away to a thumb-twiddling start today on the final session of the 78th Congress.

The Democratic high command on Capitol Hill had an appointment with President Roosevelt this morning to talk over the legislative picture. Right now it's a little dim, for neither Senate nor House is tackling any weighty legislation this week.

A few odds and ends, such as a federal road bill in the House and rivers and harbors and flood control measures in the Senate, are ready for action. But members aren't.

With the routine of getting things started again out of the way, the Senate planned to recess until Thursday and from then until Monday.

There isn't anything doing in the House this week, either. The talk was that the first thing up would be a measure to extend the second War Powers Act. The law, with authority for priorities and allocations, expires at the end of the year. Even Republicans foresee no controversy about keeping it alive.

Legislators on the whole are looking more to the future than the present. It will be the next Congress, convening Jan. 3, which in all probability will tackle the major programs for a sound postwar economy. Heading these is how to provide the 60,000,000 jobs which Mr. Roosevelt mentioned as his goal.

Common Is Site Of Bond Auction

With stage stars Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson, Alfred Drake, Margo, Burl Ives and Frederic March serving as auctioneers, the Boston Retail Trade Board, in co-operation with the Treasury Department, scheduled the first of a series of celebrity bond auctions on Boston Common this noon as a prelude to the Sixth War Loan drive.

Theater War Bond Night, initiated by the Retail Trade Board to stimulate sales, will be Thanksgiving Night, Nov. 23, when every legitimate theater in Boston will limit seats to war bond purchasers.

Buyers of bonds at Boston Retail Trade Board stores will have the privilege of buying tickets, too, for the holiday night showing of such attractions as "Sing Out Sweet Land!" at the Colonial, "Laffing Room Only" at the Shubert, "A Bell for Adano" at the Wilbur, and "Laughing Water"" at the Plymouth.

Union 'Rebels' Peril Trucking

As fear mounted today that the Boston truckmen's holiday would cripple major truck transportation in the city and between New England and New York, state labor conciliation officials admitted they were powerless to take any action in the intraunion dispute.

Gen. Charles H. Cole, chairman of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, after conferring with truck company heads and officials of Local 25 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, said the holiday resulted from a "rebellion within the union and there was nothing an outside body could do."

Meanwhile, the four-day tieup of New England Transportation Co. buses continued and the dispute appeared headed toward the War Labor Board unless a union-management conference today settled the difficulty.

The continued absence of 160 drivers and terminal employes kept idle 80 buses which normally serve 10,000 Massachusetts and Rhode Island citizens, mostly war workers. The workers left their jobs Saturday morning, claiming they were sick from eating green apples.

The Boston truck strike appeared to be mushrooming rapidly to affect 6000 drivers and cripple the movement of vital war supplies by 400 trucking concerns.

Union members, protesting the alleged failure of their officials to call an election meeting, gathered at Circle Hall, Somerville, to reaffirm their pledge to stay out of work until allowed to vote for new officers.

"The union leaders are doing everything they can to halt the strike," Gen. Cole said. "We're willing to do anything we can but so far our hands are tied. We don't even know who are the leaders of this rebellion inside the union. We are keeping a close watch on the situation but there is nothing we can do at present."

Informed that the strike was growing, Police Supt. Edward W. Fallon issued orders to all officers to be on watch for violence. He said groups of drivers already out were halting scores of trucks to urge other workers to join the holiday.

John M. Sullivan, local union president, termed those in the walkout disgruntled members, and said they represented less than 5 per cent of the union. Spokesmen for the Truckers' Rate Bureau, however, said the situation was serious.

"The truck owners, and war shippers, are the innocent bystanders in this affair," declared Ralph H. Cahouet, head of the rate bureau.

"We have been assured that war shipments would be kept moving, but with a big group of men on strike war shipping is bound to suffer as 90 per cent of all shipping is war material, directly or indirectly."

Girl Wins on FD

Because F.D. won again, a Belmont girl won a novel election bet in a gay trip to the Capital.

Mary Murphy of Spring st., Watertown, told her chum, Frances McGrady of School st., Belmont, she'd finance a week in Washington and show Frances the President if Dewey lost.

They came home today after seeing President Roosevelt's historic ride in the rain to the White House after his victory.

Beef, Veal Tongue To Be Lower Nov. 20

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Beef and veal, cured and smoked tongues will cost 1 to 3 cents a pound less at retail beginning Nov. 20.

At the same time, the retail price of beef, veal, lamb and mutton sweetbreads will be advanced 1 to 2 cents a pound, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

The decrease for tongues results from lower wholesale price ceilings. An error in the original price schedule causes the increase for sweetbreads, OPA said.

Outstanding at the New England Shoe Exposition at the Parker House this week is the exhibit of the A. Sandler Co. of Boston, in which President Jack Sandler is displaying the concern's line of sport and play shoes, which have gained it nationwide fame.

Roosevelt's N. H. Lead Reduced by 205

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 14 (AP)—Official New Hampshire election returns reported today gave President Roosevelt a 9752 margin over Gov. Dewey.

Unofficial returns gave the President a lead of 9957. The official figures gave Dewey 205 additional votes.

MEANEST THIEF — Ralph Conte, 6 months, of Parkman st., West End, being held by his sister, Betty, was the victim when Boston's "meanest" thief stole his carriage from the hallway of the Conte home. Police are conducting a neighborhood search.

3 Deny State Hospital Thefts

FALL RIVER, Nov. 14—Two Bristol County commissioners and a Fall River man pleaded innocent in Superior Court today to charges of stealing butter and eggs intended for tubercular patients at the Attleboro State Hospital.

The defendants are Timothy A. Lovett of Fall River, Bristol County Commission chairman; Comr. George F. Dean of Westport, and John McGinn of Fall River. They are charged with 42 counts of larceny and 42 counts of receiving stolen goods.

Surety was fixed by Judge John B. Sullivan at $3000 for each and counsel were given 10 days in which to file special pleas.

3 Hub Firms Enjoined In Wage-Hour Case

Charged with failure to pay overtime and keep proper records, three Greater Boston firms were permanently enjoined today from further violation of provisions of the wage-hour law by Judge George C. Sweeney in federal court.

The injunctions were ordered against: David Shapiro, Inc., of Commonwealth ave., Allston, distributors of automotive supplies; The Liberty Laboratories Corp. of Spring st., Everett, and its treasurer, Reuben I. Davidson, exterminator supply distributors, and the Eastern Baking Co., Williams st., Chelsea, manufacturers and distributors of ice cream cones.

The firms and defendants were ordered to make restitution of back pay.

NAZI INVENTOR KILLED

LONDON, Nov. 14 (INS)—Transocean, Nazi new agency, reported today Prof. Karl Schneider, allegedly the inventor of contact lens eyeglasses, was killed in a recent air raid on Darmstadt.

Drifting Scituate Lobsterman Rescued

Missing since yesterday, George Webb, 37 Kent st., Scituate, lobsterman, was located by fellow fishermen drifting in his 28-foot craft 10 miles offshore shortly after daybreak today.

A battery short circuit was blamed by Webb for his plight and he said his anchod had dragged.

Son of Vt. Minister Led Leyte Natives, Won Bride

By FRANK ROBERTSON

LEYTE (delayed) (INS)—Two more Americans who stayed in the Philippines after the fall of Corregidor to become guerrilla leaders came in from their lonely mountain outposts today.

With them they brought their families. Both had married Filipino girls during their long exile.

The men are Capt. Truman Heminway, Jr., Sherburne Center, Vt., son of an Episcopal minister, and Lt. Gordon Lang of New Ulm, Minn. Heminway had been a radio operator in Capt. Colin Kelly's B-17 squadron, and Lang was stationed at Cavite.

Heminway escaped by boat to Mindanao on Christmas, 1941. When Mindanao surrendered, May 10, 1942, he went into the hills and lived with Filipinos, always one jump ahead of patrolling Japanese.

Early in 1943 he joined the Leyte guerrilla force, and in April set up a radio station on Panaon Island, off the southern tip of Leyte. His job was to report movement of enemy shipping through the Surigao strait, scene of the recent American naval victory.

During 1943 he organized and operated other radio stations in Samar and Leyte, returning to Panaon at the end of the year. While in Samar he married Katherine Cribbs, whose father, a ship's captain, had married a Filipino in Manila.

Katherine, a pretty and intelligent girl of 20, is a naturalized American. "She's a grand girl," Heminway said today.

His father is a minister in the Episcopal Church.

4 Milk Firms Face Charges

Four Massachusetts milk distributors, including one of the largest in the state, today were charged with violating the Federal Milk Conservation Order in complaints filed in federal court by U. S. Atty. Edmund J. Brandon.

The Whiting Milk Co. was charged with making deliveries "substantially" in excess of its quota. The excesses, according to Brandon's complaint, included 746,655 pounds of milk, 385,086 pounds of cream, and 61,522 pounds of butter fat.

Others named in the complaint were Tabbut's Dairy, Inc., Woburn, charged with exceeding quotas by 65,620 pounds of milk, 6415 pounds of cream, 1323 pounds of butter fat; John Kulig of Chicopee Falls, charged with exceeding quotas by 45,608 pounds of milk, 209 pounds of cream and 86 pounds of butter fat, and Fred Balthazar of Chicopee Falls, failing to file reports of milk sales.

2 Sought in Attempted North End Holdup

Two young thieves were sought by police today after they had been put to rout by Samuel Werlin of Walnut st., Malden, whose plucky fight saved $3200 deposits of the Venice Grocery Co., Fulton st., North End.

Werlin, assistant treasurer of the firm, had just left the building when the youths pounced on him, trying to snatch a paper bag in which he was carrying money to a nearby bank. Although badly battered, he fought them off.

Stop Thief!

CARLSBAD, N. M., Nov. 14 (AP)—National Park rangers finally corralled a thief at the Carlsbad caverns. A pet crow perched on a tourist's shoulder snitched gasoline coupons from a pocket and flew about for minutes before being persuaded to be a good bird.

Hitler

Nazi Commentator Rudolph Semmler in which he said: "If the fuehrer spoke so seldom during recent months and was compelled to pass on this task to his collaborators, we know all the same that every single word of his has special importance."

Semmler exhorted German civilians to swell the ranks of the Volkstrum.

Efforts by Goebbels and other inner circle Nazis to keep the people of the Reich in the dark concerning Hitler's status have been elaborate, but the one thing that might reassure the wondering German people—the sound of Hitler's voice—has not materialized.

End to Hitler as supreme commander well could have stemmed from the sweeping American victories straight across the breadth of France. Hitler refused to retreat to more strategic lines and stubbornly ordered his armies to hold even when it meant suicide.

For several weeks now it has been possible to discern a different hand in control of Germany's western frontiers. Hitler ordered every inch held, but now the Nazis have adopted different strategy. They drop back to more orthodox lines when the situation warrants.

It is highly probable that the more conservative German military strategy is due to the fact that Field Marshal Von Rundstedt and his staff of officers now are directing the campaign in the west—and with full approval of Himmler and leaders other than Hitler.

Himmler's latest in a long series of moves to reach the top came when he read a proclamation supposedly from Hitler to the nation on the anniversary of the Munich beer hall putch, the first time Hitler ever failed to speak directly to his followers.

The Moscow radio all but claims that Himmler is completely in command and that if Hitler is not dead he at least is seriously ill or insane.

This much is not denied from any source:

Himmler is commander-in-chief of the defensive forces of the Reich—commander of the biggest police force in the world.

He is in supreme command of the volks grenadiers. He is fully in charge of the Volksturm. He is supreme commander of the Hitler Youth. He also has taken over many German army corps through his command of SS generals placed in command since the swing to Himmler began last July.

The Moscow radio reported Himmler, acting on this broad new authority, has issued a new order for all German soldiers to fight to the last man, with a proviso that any man or officer who flees the battlefield will be shot.

Relegating the formality of trials, he has ordered the nearest man to shoot those leaving the battlefield, specifying that any soldier may shoot a fleeing officer and that an officer who refuses to shoot his own men will be shot himself. The Russians claim they already have evidence this has often happened within the past week.

The Moscow radio also carried a statement from the Free German Committee in Russia that Hitler cannot and no longer wants to face a microphone and that "a deadly fear strangles his throat."

$95-$48.75-$40-$35.85-$35 —b-r-ring said our cash register—br-r-ring—br-r-ring—frequently our cash registers bulge to overflowing when wise shoppers find so many good bargains they just can't help stocking up. A recent case in point—the selling of the famous John Kane Boys Store Stock of Wilmington, Delaware, there were so many choice bargains and quality aristocrats that Boston fathers and mothers bought in quantity. The first sale totaled almost $100 and if we told you the name of the store this man usually shops for his sons' clothing you would be surprised. Another family had three boys and a girl—she got a coat out of this boys' stock and her mother just thought it was dandy. These are all splendid examples—of the more you spend the more you save in the store famous for stretching dollars automatically!

Plan Europe Bloc To Check Reich

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Britain and France were reported in accord today on the desirability of forming a bloc of western European nations to help keep Germany in check during the coming years of peace.

Responsible quarters said Belgium and Holland may become original signatories to such a regional pact along with Britain and France and that eventually Norway, Sweden and Denmark may come in.

Summarizing the week-end discussions of Prime Minister Churchill and Gen. de Gaulle, a French news agency expressed the view "the French and British governments would consider favorably the possibility of concluding such regional accords."

Seaman Loses Belt With Furlough Money

Albert Furno, F-1c, U. S. N., today appealed to the Boston American for help in finding his money belt containing the funds which would give him his first trip home in six months.

Furno said he lost the belt somewhere between the Charlestown Navy Yard and City sq., Charlestown. Anyone finding the belt can reach Furno at CHArlestown 9545.

*Service, authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Board, will be inaugurated soon for New England.

FAMOUS as the nation's oldest coast-to-coast air route, United's Main Line Airway follows a short, direct course straight across the heart of the nation.

Along this No. 1 skyway are located the country's leading business and industrial areas . . . and, for the postwar period, more well-known recreational centers than served by any other airline.

Just as soon as additional equipment is available, United Air Lines will inaugurate Mainliner Service from Boston and Hartford over this great route to Cleveland, Chicago, Omaha, Denver and major Pacific Coast cities.

United is looking forward to offering New England new, fast, strategic airline transportation via the Main Line Airway.

Choice of Subjects For History Essays

Thousands of Boston public and parochial high school students competing in the William Randolph Hearst National American History Awards will have the opportunity to choose from several subjects for the 250-word essay they will be required to write.

The essay, which must be completed in 45 minutes, is in addition to the 20 questions which will be asked the competing students in the Boston elimination contests Thursday, Nov. 30. Ninety minutes will be given to answer the questions.

Fairness will be assured all competitors by use of a number system under which their names and schools will not be known until the committee of judges completes its deliberations to determine the best three essays in the city.

The three pupils thus chosen will be the city's finalists in the national examinations which will be held in 13 key cities of the nation Monday, Dec. 11. Boston finalists will take their examinations in Faneuil Hall.

Boston finalists are eligible for national prizes totaling $5850 in War Bonds. The prizes are: first, $2000; second, $1000; third, $500; fourth, $250; fifth through ninth, $100 each, and tenth through 41st, $50 each.

Boston students also are eligible for local prizes in War Bonds donated by the Boston American, Record and Sunday Advertiser. These are: first, $200; second, $100; third, $75; fourth through sixth, $50; seventh through 25th, $25 each. The school whose pupils make the best showing in the awards will be given a $100 set of history books.

—I have been honorably discharged from the WAC by reason of dependency under Sec. V-A. R. 615-360, 9th Ind. Served 3 months 25 days. I would like to know if I am entitled to discharge button and also mustering-out pay. If so, where can I get button and copy of GI benefits? H. C., Providence.

A—You are entitled to $200 mustering-out pay and also button. Apply U. S. Finance Office, 80 Federal st., Boston, for mustering-out pay. Nearest Army post or installation in your area should furnish you with discharge button upon presentation of discharge. Write Veterans' Bureau, Federal Building, Boston, for GI Bill benefits.

Q—I was transferred to the Enlisted Reserve Corps July 29, 1943, under Circular 92 as I was over 38 years of age. I have just received final discharge. Am I entitled to mustering-out pay? A. A., Weymouth.

A—No.

Q—My husband is in the service and has told me he will stop payment on my monthly allotment. Can he do that? S. C., Boston.

A—As long as you are his legal wife he cannot stop allotment payment.

Q—My wife left me 3 months ago and I have not heard from her since and don't know of her whereabouts. Her allotment checks are being sent to her last address, then returned to Office of Dependency, Newark, N. J. Is there any way I can stop them? She told me if she ever quit, she did not want any money from me.

A—Your question is a matter for the legal bench of the Army. Suggest you inform the Personnel Officer of your organization or Commanding Officer about your predicament.

Q—I enlisted in the Navy at the age of 16 using my cousin's name in order to gain enlistment. I have now changed my name and re-enlisted under proper conditions. While serving under the alias I was wounded in Anzio and would like to know if I can wear the Purple Heart now and where do I apply for it? C. M., Boston.

A—Navy Dept. state that under circumstances you would receive Purple Heart, but you will have to make application through your Commanding Officer or Navy Personnel Officer.

OVER half a century ago experts chose the site for the HARVARD Brewing Co.—in the wide open fields on the outskirts of Lowell, Mass.—because plentiful spring water was available and there was ample room for construction then and expansion later.
THERE, surrounded by 20 broad acres of park and meadow the very imposing group of HARVARD buildings stands today. The buildings are strikingly impressive in size, in cleanliness, and in arrangement, providing ample room for all operations. Definitely, HARVARD has an unusual location, which is one of the reasons why HARVARD "has what it takes".

WATCH OUT!

THE International Civil Aviation Conference in Chicago, which opened with one strike called against it because Russia refused to participate, has now experienced what appears to be the calling of the second strike.

The Latin-American delegations have announced open and determined opposition to what they interpret as "Big Power" domination of postwar civil air transport, offering an international aviation program of their own in which all participating nations would have equal voting power.

There seems to be general agreement among all nations, big and small, that some sort of an international organization or authority should regulate postwar civil aviation—that is, the transportation by aircraft of one nation of goods and passengers over the territories of other nations.

But the difficulty inherent in the attempt to make such an agency EQUITABLE in its effect upon all nations is very great.

All nations plead desire for equal opportunities and advantages in postwar civil aviation, because much of the world's commerce is destined to move by air transport in the future and the nations making the best use of air transport are going to be the most prosperous nations.

Even the so-called "Big" Powers assert desire for equity.

Great Britain, for instance, has recently issued a "white paper" on international air transport proposing an international air authority, consisting of the representatives of the ratifying nations "with voting powers to be determined on an equitable basis."

But what process or method is to determine an "equitable" basis, and particularly BY WHOM is it to be determined?

THE United States is not only POTENTIALLY the greatest civil air power in the world; but is in fact that NOW.

The United States has the greatest air transport establishment in the world today—greater, in fact, than the air transport establishments of ALL OTHER NATIONS PUT TOGETHER.

It has air bases all over the world, built on the territories of other nations in numerous cases, but built by American manpower and with American money and materials in virtually all cases.

It has the greatest capacity for aircraft production in the world.

Thus we have OPPORTUNITIES in postwar civil aviation that are beyond the grasp of other nations, and in addition we already have INVESTMENTS in that field that no other nation is capable of making.

How is equity FOR US to be determined in this situation? Especially, WHO is going to determine it?

It is hard to know what the precise answers to these questions will be.

It is not very hard to foresee what the answers will be if we are out-maneuvered in the negotiation stages of international air transport agreement, or particularly what they will be if we are OUT-VOTED in any sort of a world air authority—such as Great Britain and others now propose.

RUSSIA has been pretty wise about not exposing herself to commitments on this vital matter, and Russia should not be the ONLY wise and farseeing nation in this respect.

It has been our frequent and almost consistent AMERICAN experience in the past that we get OUTSMARTED in the processes of international agreement on matters affecting our prosperity and even our security.

We should have a special care that we are not outsmarted and out-voted in a world air authority which would have power to channel postwar civil aviation advantages among all competitors — and which might conceivably and cynically do so to our very great disadvantage.

My baby's love hath filled my life's fair cup
Full to the crystal brim;
I pray for him
All else I do fades far away

The while I pray
Ah, God, be good to him, my own.
Who on my breast
Sleeps with soft dimpled hands outthrown,
A child at rest!

ON the day I lost my wallet I had plenty of company. According to the lost and found ads in just one newspaper, 17 other persons lost their wallets. Maybe we should all get together and cry on each other's shoulders. On the same day 31 persons lost jewelry. One of these was a girl who lost her engagement ring. She would be a cinch to win one of those "embarrassing moments" contests. What could be more embarrassing when asked by a fiance: "Where's your engagement ring?" than to have to say: "I lost it"? A man lost a shotgun that day. A woman lost a mink coat. And one poor wretch lost his bridge work!

SAYS SHE: "You say young couples spend 50 per cent of the time of their first year of marriage talking about a name for the first baby," writes a New Yorker. "My husband and I didn't talk about it at all until the baby was born. I suggested we call him Michael or Thomas and my husband said: 'Why not call him both?' I said: 'O. K. we will make it Thomas Michael and call him Tommy.' But my husband said he liked Michael Thomas so we made it that and now we call him Mickey."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—How about the character of a man of Scotch-Irish descent who has blonde hair and blue eyes? A—I don't believe you can generalize much as to character by the color of a man's eyes and hair and his descent. However, light haired men with blue eyes, like Bing Crosby, are usually very courageous fellows and good fighters. As for the Scotch-Irish part of it, all I know is a number of Presidents of the United States have been of that descent. Q—Is it true that one in every five married couples in the United States is childless? A—Nothing to that claim. Eighty-seven per cent of the married couples in the United States have children. That is, nearly nine out of ten couples are proud mamas and papas.

PASSING BY: Sally Benson. Brilliant literary lady. Sold the first story she wrote. In all her career has never had a rejection slip. She is from St. Louis, Mo. I put that "Mo." in because there is a St. Louis in Michigan. Nice little town, too . . . Ilka Chase. Rates the "by and with" line in the play "In Bed We Cry," in which she is featured. She wrote the book on which the piece is based. Eric Von Stroheim first used the "by and with" line in connection with a film titled "Foolish Wives." Eric wrote the story; starred in and directed the film.

LOVE, ETC.: "I would rather love somebody I cannot have." A San Franciscan informs me this was offered by a young woman as an explanation of her love for another woman's husband. Wives have a much harder time fighting off women who are trying to steal their husbands than husbands do battling with men trying to steal their wives. Male ethics in this respect seem on a higher plane. However, this decision is not final. It may be that husbands are more easily tempted than wives. Our Horses & Women and Mules & Men Departments always try to be fair as to such matters.

PLEASE NOTE: A quart bottle of Scotch contains 18 drinks. So states Fred Russell in his book "I'll Go Quietly." According to that estimate, a fifth should contain between 14 and 15 drinks. Now the question arises, how many drinks does a cocktail bar get out of a fifth of Scotch? If it gets 14 which are retailed at 65 cents each, it realizes $9.10 per bottle. If it gets 15, which is very likely, the bar realizes $9.75 per bottle. Not bad!

COLLECTION: Recently stated I was going to make a collection of sporting books, magazines, programs and prints. A kindly Chicagoan sent me for this collection a program of the farewell testimonial to Referee George Siler dated Sept. 23, 1907. Siler was probably the greatest fight referee of all time. He officiated in more than 5000 ring contests. Among them were the Corbett-Fitzsimmons, Fitzsimmons-Jeffries, Jeffries-Sharkey and Gans-Nelson fights.

"Okay, Dave. Hand me that rod!"

WASHINGTON SCENE

By GEORGE DIXON

Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc. Reproduction prohibited

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Bowing to popular demand—Popular was in here 15 minutes ago and demanded it—I have finally consented to take cognizance of the Coffee resolution to broadcast proceedings of Congress.

Clare Boothe Luce

The Coffee in this instance is none of the advertised blends and I do not even know if it is good to the last drip. It is Representative John M. Coffee, Democrat, of Washington.

Representative Coffee introduced his resolution (H. J. Res. 311) before the 78th Congress. It is due, I trust to come up for further action.

He laid down the broad argument that whereas most of the social, economic and political issues of the United States and of the world will be debated by Congress, the proceedings of House and Senate should be broadcast.

★ ★ ★

UNDER THE resolution, Capital Architect Dave Lynn would be directed to wire both chambers, set up microphones.

He also would install transcription machines so any Congressman who wishes to have his words played back to him—an idea which smacks of the masochistic—could do so.

Mr. Coffee, however, makes one stipulation. Both House and Senate will retain the right not to broadcast any proceeding, or part thereof, which they do not desire broadcast.

If I were a Congressman I would favor that stipulation. Things are often said that I would not care to have go over the airwaves into the parlors of my constituents.

Let us imagine a typical program:

Comes a roll of drums—wild, Sinatra-like cries to indicate Mrs. Luce entering the chamber—incidental music. Then the full-throated voice of the announcer:

"It's Representative John M. Coffee time!"

★ ★ ★

THE MUSIC blares up again; then dies away. The first commercial begins:

"Ladies and gentlemen, you have always heard that fish is brain food. Be smart, be thrifty—try Hamilton Fish today!"

So far as I have been able to ascertain—and, believe me, I went into it thoroughly—there is no rule of either House or Senate which prevents singing. This is something the parliamentarians have overlooked.

Consequently the vocalist entertains with a beautiful number I am just composing:

"When the Sol Bloom is on the rose in the good old Jessie Sumner time!"

★ ★ ★

THE PROCEEDINGS proper then open with a quartet of Representatives singing the House theme song:

"Will the gentleman yield?
Will the gentleman yield?
For four more years
We'll be New Dealed!"

A BILL is introduced to construct drydocks in Denver, because Denver doesn't have any drydocks and resents discrimination

This is referred to the committee of the whole—the whole—the committee of the whole.

Inasmuch as we wish a varied program, the next number is a hula dance.

The dancer shakes to her own ukulele accompaniment and sings:

"My Wigglesworth a lot of dough to me!"

The thing, naturally, must have its significant and serious side. A debate on postwar planning will fill the spot.

★ ★ ★

THERE'S NOTHING like a good recitation, or dramatic recital. Of course, these go better with gestures, and we may have to wait for television to get the full beauty across.

But Rep. Marcantonio might knock them dead with a reading of:

"Friends, Romans, Countrymen, lend me your cars.
"Earl Browder has mine!"

★ ★ ★

THIS IDEA of broadcasting Congressional performances has so many fascinating possibilities that I haven't space for all of them today.

So I am going to give more tomorrow. Stand by for station identification.

Hollywood . . . .

By Dorothy Manners
Substituting for Louella O. Parsons, who is on vacation

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14—Sonja Henie remains with Bill Goetz' International company on a new deal. In addition to a hike financially (in Sonja's case this always means a bigger percentage of the take, for there's a gal with a head for business), her second opus, "The Countess of Monte Cristo," will be filmed in Technicolor and will be even bigger, better and frothier than her debut with the company in "It's a Pleasure."

Sonja Henie

First, Sonja goes on another one of her highly profitable ice tours, which begins Nov. 15 in Indianapolis and winds up at Madison Square Garden in February. After she gets through counting the profits, Sonja will return to Hollywood for the "Countess."

★ ★ ★

L. O. P. HAD a hunch this was coming and announced it weeks ago, but it is now definite that Harold Lloyd will star in a comedy for Preston Sturges. Sturges deserves a vote of thanks for getting Harold back on the screen, particularly since he will be seen as his old bespectacled self—the nervous, self conscious young man who was idol of silent screen fans.

HIS TOUR with Eva Gallienne winding up Jan. 5, Joseph Schildkraut returns to Hollywood to star in Republic's "The Amazing Mr. H." This is the story Schildkraut has had his heart set on for a long time. Frances Hyland wrote the original, which deals with a family of ordinary people who take in a ham actor to live with them. The Thespian winds up practically changing everyone's personality, a sort of "Actor Who Came to Dinner" idea. It was this particular role that brought Schildkraut around to signing his long-term contract with Republic.

PLENTY OF headaches getting Ann Sheridan's next lined up at Warners. The weather isn't right for "Calamity Jane" and "Night Shift" isn't ready to roll. So "Danger Signal," the Phyllis Bottome novel, may get preference. That all depends on getting the script in shape. Craig Rice, who wrote "Home, Sweet Homicide," has been set to work re-polishing the screen play to fit Annie's measurements.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Deanna Durbin and Bob Landry aren't seeing each other any more, although he is still in town at this writing. The girl in New York, reported to be his fiancee, is not a debutante (as reported elsewhere) but is Geraldine Lux, a research writer for the same publications hiring Landry. If this romance is cold (I mean Deanna and Bob) it will at least be a relief from rumors and hints that the Durbin gal is planning to marry every man with whom she dines. By the way, whatever happened to Felix Jackson in this mixup?

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: When Lt. Buddy Rogers is retired to the Navy's inactive list, which is soon, he'll head a USO unit conducting a band; Lana Turner refusing to pose for the photogs at the Palladium upset the boys. Must have been a disappointment to Turhan Bey, too, because he brought his pipe along. Since he never smokes it—what's it for except to get its picture taken? Bob Hope says a good theme song for Carl Brisson would be "There's a Great Dane Coming, Manana"; Jimmy Cagney had to take the day off from "Blood on the Sun" from the shock of hearing that his best friend, Edward McNamara, had dropped dead of a heart attack. They had been pals for 20 years; the hottest scene of the week: Vyonne de Carlo doing her "Salome Where She Danced" number with two prop boys holding fire extinguishers in case she caught fire—from some candles on the set, silly; Warner Anderson, who asked for his release from Warners last week, reports to M-G-M for a big role in "Week-End at the Waldorf"; with Robert Walker these rainy nights its Martha O'Driscoll.

Broadway . . . .

By Dorothy Kilgallen

Copyright, 1944, King Features Synd., Inc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—A breezy young gentleman named Irving Cohen writes me from Brooklyn in bold, flowing script as follows:

"Dear Dorothy—I trust I may call you Dorothy—your recent columns on Broadway corn interested me no end. Later, babe, you have been around I guess—at least you talk like you have been around—but you have certainly missed a lot of corn or maybe you didn't have space enough for all of it.

"What I am referring to is did you ever get a load of those ankle bracelets some dames. I mean girls, wear? Do you consider that they are on the console side, or do you maybe wear one yourself? My own girl, who is otherwise hep, wears one, and when I reproach her she says why not, Lana Turner wears one. Well, there is an answer to that, too, but no doubt you can figure it out for yourself.

"Why don't you sit down at your typewriter and dash off a list of some REAL corn like the above. My girl reads your column every night so she can find out all about the celebrities, and, who knows, it might do her some good. Yours sincerely, Irving."

Well, Irving old kid, I'm glad to oblige.

YOU MAY quote me as saying I consider ankle bracelets practically the ultimate in corn, and I don't wear one. I did when I was 14—for about three days—but my mother noticed it one afternoon and after a short, rather bitter, debate the "slave bracelet" was transferred to my wrist. I think Lana does wear one—or did—but who notices Lana Turner's ANKLES?

I can give you your list of additional corn, though, Irving, with no effort at all. Start with those silly-willy-nilly commercial radio jingles based on nursery rhymes—they're right off the cob. So is autograph hunting. So are campaign buttons, movie trailers that hail the coming film as the best ever made, photo-taking parlors and souvenirs of New York that say "Mother."

Most songs about Hawaii are written by a couple of kids named Rappaport and Smith, and that's corny. Ted Lewis is corny when he says "Is everybody happy?" and, in fact, even when he doesn't. Black lace nightgowns are corny. So are mules with ostrich feather trim.

★ ★ ★

IF YOU KNOW of a night club m. c. who isn't c-r-y, get in touch with me right away. And what about those Celebrity Nights at the West Side bistros, where the wag in charge makes everybody in the place take a bow, from Milton Berle to the newest bus boy? What about letters written in green ink? What about perfume ads that start out "like some divine instrument soloing to the gods?" Hey, Irving? Are you with me?

Jimmy Walker, one of the best of the contemporary spellbinders, claims that a successful speech must include a pat on the back for mother and a slight wave of the flag. He's a connoisseur of corn.

The boys who write the billing for the nation's top bandleaders are also experts. Dig Kay Kyser's "College of Musical Knowledge" and "Swing and Sway With Guess Whom." Gene Krupa's management, without venturing a smile, advertises him as "That ace drummer man, Gene Krupa, and his sensational orchestra that swings with strings."

Boston After Dark

A SHAKEUP IN THE TOBIN Cabinet will happen soon . . . Dr. John Cauley of Dorchester, assistant prof at the B. U. School of Medicine, is an interim appointment, made by the retiring Dr. G. Lynde Gately (who left last night for active service as a Navy two-and-a-half-striper), to the job of health commissioner of Boston . . . The appointment holds for 28 days . . . Mayor Tobin then—if not before — will announce his choice for the job. (It may be Dr. Cauley).

CHARLES OSTER of Magnolia and the Far North Country and oldtime partner of the deceased (by violence) Sir Harry Oakes of Nassau, is in Boston with news of a new Oster gold mine—a beauty, they say . . . Sgt. Nancy Corcoran, the glamorous and lovely postdeb, left today after a three-day furlough in this, her home town . . . Nancy looks more beautiful than anything (including her sister Lucy, now of the stage and movies) . . . She has lost 10 pounds, and is wearing her hair cut short and "featherwaved," (whatever that is) . . . She expects an assignment to "WAC's Fifth Avenue" . . . This is what the gals call New York recruiting H. Q.

PLENTY OF MILDLY crippled semi-celebrities at the opening of "Sing Out, Sweet Land" . . . Lorella Val-Merle, the keen little press-agent of the Theater Guild, was limping . . . She "sprung" her ankle . . . But the gorgeous Carlotta Casey, Steve's wife, was jogging through the aisles on a cane . . . And Huehie Anderson, brother of John Murray Anderson, director of "Laffing Room Only," was the merry, mustacho-ed gentleman with his right arm in a sling . . . He was injured when a chair collapsed under him while at rehearsals. (It was not a part of the Olsen and Johnson script.)

THE FIRST NIGHT talk around the saloons was that Margo is cast unhappily in "A Bell For Adano," which is a shame . . . Nothing is wrong with the cast of "Sing Out, sweet Land" . . . Where has Alma Kaye been all our life?. . . Is she something as "Mohee," the Indian maiden!

OBVIOUSLY, ONE FAULT of "Sing Out, Sweet Land" is the determination by all concerned to carry on the continuity of the idea whether they top a natural climax or whether they don't . . . In musical comedy or revue, you simply don't try to top tremendous crescendos in the action just before a curtain . . . The Guild, by the way, is careful not to classify "Sing Out Sweet Land" as either musical comedy or revue) . . . The first act finale should be that inspired swing version of "Frankie and Johnny" . . . The following action is an anti-climax . . . It should be a cinch to weave into the famous folk ballad once again—for the last act curtain—after dispensing (in three words) with the plot . . . Similarly, they bring on a funereal chorus of swishe somethings after the delirious and hilarious climax to the "Speakeasy" scene . . . This scene might easily develop into a classic . . . Veterans in the audience were reminded of younger days so forcibly that they were squirming in embarrassment . . . Alfred Drake is wonderful . . . And that little Alma Kaye! Uh! uh! (Or should it be Ugh! Ugh!)

★ ★ ★

THIS SHOULD ANSWER the doubt about former Police Commissioner Timilty's intentions on the mayoralty . . . Joe T. announced last year that he would run "regardless" of the opposition (and we panicked it) . . . He admits the earlier intention, and this brings it up to date: "I would like to be Mayor of Boston . . . I would like to run for the Mayoralty . . . But I value friendship above any personal ambition" . . . Mr. Timilty will be toastmaster of the banquet to be given Hon. James M. Curley at the Copley Plaza Sunday next . . . Mr. Curley made Mr. Timilty police commissioner, when the Congressman was Governor . . . It takes no seer or great mind to interpret Mr. T.'s reference to "friendship" as that of Mr. Curley and himself.

Beauty

Whiteheads Vanish

Fashion

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

WHITEHEADS ARE STUBBORN THINGS . . . they won't disappear in nothing flat . . . but you can defeat them with a little patience and two specifically designed preparations which they detest and which will blitz them off your face . . . for a complexion as smooth and sleek as Paramount Star Barbara Britton's intriguing face and hair-do.

WHITEHEADS AND BLACKHEADS are first cousins in an unpleasant family. The black ones are like a splinter in the pore . . . the white ones, fat little bulbs that have pulled a snug skin coverlet over themselves, smothering the pore completely.

Want to prick them and squeeze out the cheezy little ball? Don't do it! Why? Because the crafty little things have tiny springs of pus attached to them . . . and they stay IN. They creep into the next cell and the next.

You have to rob those pesky little things of their protection . . . the dead cuticle covering them must come off. Friction and stimulation, that's the answer. Lots of rubbing with a wash cloth or complexion brush . . . cold water . . . and a cleaner that has sufficient oomph to do the job.

BRISK, THOROUGH GOING-OVER

By all means, don't give up heart . . . but take refuge in a liquid facial cleaner that has scrupulous cleansing powers . . . that gets at the root of these saboteurs and makes them disappear. At night give your face a brisk, thorough going-over with this liquid facial preparation . . . a white, creamy substance that has imprisoned penetrative qualities to make the face tingle. After you dry the skin . . . spread a delicate layer of an overnight ointment all over your face.

Now, on every spot where one pushes its head up pat on the liquid facial preparation just as it comes from the bottle . . . and leave everything on over night. This night shift works like the dickens. If you are really out to blitz these unpleasant things off the face of the "map" . . . your complexion, actually . . . go through the same "song and dance" routine in the morning . . . only removing it for a suitable, sensible antiseptic foundation for the day's lasting. We'll tell about this antiseptic foundation beautifier another day.

For the name of this liquid facial and overnight ointment, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A HOLIDAY get-up of high fashion is this practical jumper dress in toning shades of blue, gray and black-striped sheer wool . . . showing a modified dolman cap sleeve and turn-back lapels. Worn over a black French jersey and belted with gold-studded black suede . . . it is something to shout about. A black pin seal box purse and a black felt beret complete Universal Star Deanna Durbin's casual but ultra-girlish costume. R. M.

Introduction Warning

Here's an introduction-rule easy and mighty helpful to remember. Never use a form that is a command to the person being introduced. For example, never say, "meet Mrs. Smith" . . . "shake hands with Mr. Jones" . . . "let me make you acquainted with Miss Brown" . . . "make the acquaintance of Mr. Robinson" . . . "let me introduce" . . . "let me present." Instead of commanding, it's obviously more gracious to ask permission . . . for example, "may I present," "may I introduce."—MRS. BEECKMAN.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Monday—I plan to go back tonight to Washington, but in the meantime I am doing as many things as possible during this day. My morning is filled with appointments of various kinds, and at 2 o'clock I am to speak to a group at Brooklyn College under auspices of the United States Student Assembly.

In the evening I go to a meeting at Cooper Union under auspices of the Committee for Refugee Education, Inc. These refugees, who came here as strangers in our midst, set themselves to learn the language of the country which has given them shelter.

* * *

THIS IS A bewildering country to those who come from far away, and the processes of democracy, which seem to us simple and easy to understand, must seem very chaotic to strangers. An election such as we have just been through, for instance, proves to us our freedom; but to them it probably spells misunderstanding, disunity and bitter hatred!

Take, for example, the oft-repeated statement, made in the hope of befuddling American mothers, that the President had "broken his promise to them that their boys would not be sent to fight outside of the continental United States."

The end of the sentence, which is "Unless we are attacked," is rarely quoted, and never was it explained to the mothers that their right would be battled for their boys if they wanted until the attack was on our own soil.

* * *

NONE OF THIS, however, was ever mentioned, and I sometimes wonder whether the writers and speakers who try to befuddle other people are not really befuddled themselves!

If not, then they deliberately go about assuming that people in this country are so stupid they will not also know the truth at the time, nor realize later the type of effort that was made to control their thinking.

Wife Blamed For Divorce

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Seven months ago I met and fell in love with a man my age. I'm single but Jack was married and has two children. He is divorced and his friends tell me it was his wife's fault. She is now begging him to take her back. But Jack says he never intends to go back to her.

I love him and we are planning to marry after the war if we still care for each other. Do you think we would be happy PERPLEXED.

In a case like this, don't you think it would be well to find out a little more about the cause of the divorce? Husbands and wives always have their partisans when a marriage is broken. If you're not planning to marry until after the war, you'll have plenty of time to find out why Jack's first marriage went on the rocks. And there's always the question of making provision for children of a previous marriage.

DON'T "LEAN"! Leaning on or lounging against furniture or walls is a breach of etiquette and gives one a careless, lazy appearance.

Violet Shades for Spring

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THERE'S more than a tinge of purple in the winter styles. There is a deluge of the shades that stem from the violet, and I hear these are going to be very big fashion next Spring.

For that vernal season they will grow pale, but right now it is the real violets and royal purples which I see the most. They can be becoming to most ladies, if makeup is properly applied.

One very charming violet dress is sketched. This one comes from Charles Cooper, and is a two-piece dress of crepe. This clever designer trims his dress by putting appliqued laurel leaves on the blouse in chevron fashion, three rows at the front. They are tied with narrow ties of the material. The skirt is slim, but not skimpy, and the sleeves are long and fitted.

String Beans

By MARTHA LEE

STRING BEANS are one of the most economical vegetables to serve, even if the price does seem to be so much higher per pound. These are different and attractive.

STRING BEANS WITH MUSHROOMS

2 lbs. string beans, cut in 1-inch pieces
½ tsp. sugar
1½ tsp. salt
Speck pepper
½ lb. fresh mushrooms
1 cup minced onion
½ cup water
3 tbsp. salad oil, butter or margarine
½ cup top milk or cream

Combine beans with mushrooms, which have been washed and sliced, the onion, salt, water, salad oil and sugar. Cover and cook over low heat until tender—about 30 minutes. Add the remaining ingredients, heat well and serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings. One 4-ounce can mushrooms, drained, may be substituted for the fresh ones. In using, brown lightly in 2 tbsp. butter or margarine; add to cooked beans.

STRING BEANS, CHINESE STYLE

1½ lbs. string beans
½ lb. pork, thinly sliced
1 tsp. chopped raw ginger
1 tbsp. fat
Soy sauce
Salt and pepper

Break beans in 1½-inch pieces and boil 10 minutes. Fry pork and ginger until browned, add to beans and cook slowly 15 minutes longer. Serve with soy sauce. Makes about six servings.

And here is a recipe from middle America, where vegetable cookery is always given the importance it deserves, and the seasonings and flavor combinations are never left to chance or a hurried and final dabbing with a bit of butter.

GUATEMALAN STRING BEANS

1 lb. string beans
2 tbsp. bacon fat
1 onion, minced
3 tomatoes, chopped
Generous dash cayenne pepper
Salt and black pepper to taste

Cut beans crosswise into inch-long pieces and cook until tender in as little water as possible. Meanwhile melt the bacon fat in a skillet, add the onion and fry slowly until soft and yellow. Add the tomatoes and allow to cook slowly to sauce consistency. Season well and stir in the cooked string beans. Makes 4 to 6 servings. Canned or left-over string beans may be used in this recipe.

STRING BEAN SUCCOTASH

1 lb. string beans, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 tsp. salt
1½ cups diced, peeled tomatoes
½ tbsp. minced onion
3 tbsp. salad oil
1½ cups cooked or canned whole-grain corn

Combine all ingredients except corn, and cook over medium heat in a heavy covered saucepan for 30 minutes. Add the corn and cook 10 minutes longer. Makes 4 to 6 servings. A little light cream may be added if desired.

SWEET-SOUR STRING BEANS

Wash beans and cut off or break off ends of beans and string, if necessary. Leave whole, slice thin diagonally, or cut in pieces. Cook with a dash each of salt and sugar, and 2 strips of bacon, diced. When ready to serve, add 2 tablespoons sugar and 2 tablespoons vinegar. Makes 6 servings.

SAVORY STRING BEANS

1 medium onion, minced
3 tbsp. salad oil
2½ cups cooked or canned string beans
Speck pepper
1-3 cup chili sauce
1 tsp. salt

Combine onion and salad oil in saucepan. Let simmer over low heat until onion is tender but not brown (3 or 4 minutes). Add beans, chili sauce, salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. Makes 4 servings.

Smart Set McKean Bridal Soon

By BETTY ALDEN

MRS. Q. A. SHAW McKEAN would love nothing better than to have her daughter Jenny married at a big wedding here at home so all their friends could attend and she could design the floral decorations from the mass of beautiful flowers she grows in her greenhouses at Prides Crossing.

But Jenny's fiance, Capt. Paul Moore, Jr., is at the Marine Base at Quantico and since the wedding will be any day now it will be a small informal one in Washington or New York with only the families attending. The date depends on Capt. Moore's leave and it would be a happy coincidence if it falls on Nov. 19, which is the third anniversary of Margie and Walter Reed.

Mrs. W. Reed

Jenny is currently visiting in Convent, N. J., with her future father and mother-in-law who until the war were summer neighbors of the McKeans at Rockmarge, one of the show places of the North Shore.

ROUND AND ABOUT: Beauteous Polly Cotter of Cambridge in a fetching pink feather hat and mink coat, and Lt. Torbert McDonald, Navy hero, chose the Ritz Bar for a quiet tete-a-tete to celebrate Torby's visit to Boston this week-end. And toasting the recent birth of a daughter were Lt. and Mrs. George Akirich (Alice Burrage), the latter handsome in a dressy black with pink roses at the waist.

Mrs. Jansen Noyes (Dorothy O'Day) of Brookline has just completed a cooking course but is marking time before starting on anything else because she is hoping for a reunion with her Navy husband somewhere in the U. S. A. in the near future.

As chairman of the committee, Mrs. J. Clifford Briggs of Embankment rd. is hard at work on plans for a gala holiday party to be given by the Port Officers' Wives Club of Boston.

Mrs. Felix Gygax, wife of the new commander of the First Naval District, was guest of Mrs. Oliver Ritchie at the first of the season's Morning Musicales at the Statler this morning. Mrs. Ritchie is the wife of a naval captain on duty in the Pacific.

Salvage Drive Hits Record Pace

Trucks rolled through South Boston and Wards 8, 9 and 10 of Roxbury today while householders and business men of the city strove to better last month's record-breaking collection of waste paper and scrap tin.

Opening day saw the November drive off to a good start with East Boston, Charlestown and the Back Bay donating 209,600 pounds of paper and 36,100 pounds of tin, bettering last month's collections of 204,560 pounds and 28,100 pounds respectively.

Tomorrow salvage trucks will canvass Wards 11 and 12 of Roxbury and Wards 13 and 14 of Dorchester, while Thursday's collections will be in Wards 15, 16 and 17 of Dorchester and Ward 18, comprising parts of Hyde Park, Roslindale and Mattapan. The drive winds up Friday with collections in Ward 19, Jamaica Plain; Ward 20, West Roxbury, and Wards 21 and 22, Allston and Brighton.

Father John's Medicine Has Been Used For Over 85 Years.

Rich in Vitamins A and D

Colds strike hardest in families which have low resistance (often due to insufficient vitamin A). Father John's Medicine supplies vitamin A and builds resistance. It also gives quick relief from raspy coughs and throat irritation due to colds by its soothing effect on the throat. It is pure, wholesome, nutritive and good for all the family.

Wilbur's 'A Bell for Adano' Moving Portrayal of War

By PEGGY DOYLE

Long after the thunderous peal of the bell with which Maj. Joppolo gladdened the hearts of the townspeople had died down, Wilbur firstnighters were applauding Leland Hayward's production of "A Bell For Adano."

John Hersey's beautifully honest scrutiny of the AMG in action in a small Italian town has been adapted for the stage by Paul Osborn, of "Vinegar Tree" and "On Borrowed Time" memory. The original novel, written by a celebrated war correspondent who has covered the Sicilian and Italian campaigns and is now in Moscow, has been rated one of the finest writing jobs to come out of this war.

The play, which brought Fredric March and Margo, stage and screen stars, to the Wilbur stage last night, is an arresting if not entirely satisfying recapitulation of the novel. The difficulty of sufficiently backgrounding the story in an evening's unveiling and the shadowy love story are handicaps.

But this is not to say that the stage presentation is not a moving, sometimes exalting experience. March's conception of Major Joppolo . . . the civil affairs representative of the American Military Government of Occupied Territory who valiantly fights through a maze of red tape to give Adano back to its war-wearied citizens . . . is one of his better performances.

It has not the great compassion and rugged vigor of Hersey's American major. March's Joppolo is a softer, lesser man than the blunt, forceful leader the doubting, disillusioned people of Adano learned to love and revere.

* * *

Margo does well with Tina, daughter of headfisherman Tomasino, within the script's limitations. But the character is a vague and never completely resolved one.

The same cannot be said for Tito Vuolo's Guiseppe Ribaudo, the Italianate Brooklynite, who became immeasurably valuable to the major as an interpreter of persons and motives as well as his native tongue. Juicily comic, Vuolo never overplayed, maintained a nice restraint throughout.

Richly ironic were the naval lieutenant and the Fascist mayor, as interpreted by Phil Arthur and Rolfe Sedan respectively. Everett Sloane's M. P., unalterably loyal to the major and unmistakeably forthright with quislings, has a sharp tang and the note of authority.

* * *

Joe Verdi, the organ-grinder of the ill-fated "Men to the Sea," and other bit-players delivered vivid thumbnail sketches.

The Motleys have designed an authentic-seeming set to background War Correspondent Hersey's closeup of a small American-occupied Italian town in July of 1943. Less satisfactory was H. C. Potter's direction, which showed too much slack at last night's presentation.

Tomorrow's Review

"Sing Out, Sweet Land!" The Theater Guild's new musical by Walter Kerr which opened last night at the Colonial, will be reviewed by Peggy Doyle, drama editor, in tomorrow's Boston American. Alfred Drake and Burl Ives head a cast of 70 singers and dancers in this second play of The Theater Guild-American Theater Society subscription season.

SURPASS THEMSELVES, do Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney in "Laura," 20th Century-Fox's moody and moving film transcription of the Vera Caspary's strange, suspenseful love story. It is to be seen on the Metropolitan screen, starting Thursday.

Johnny Long's Orchestra, Sibyl Bowan for Boston

Johnny Long's sweet and/or jive music and Sibyl Bowan's making like some of your favorite characters will be the place de resistance of the new RKO Boston stage show, starting Thursday.

Assisting them will be the Di Gatanos, ballroom dance team, and Lew Hoffman, the madhatter whose capering provokes chuckling.

Long, an accomplished musician who was forced to play his violin left-handed because of an accident, has built up an orchestra that is one of the better outfits in show business. Miss Bowan, a local pet, needs no introduction.

For film fare, "Tall in the Saddle," with Ella Raines and John Wayne, is holding over a secon dweek. It is worth your attention.

Ross Has Veterans and Rookies on His 1944 Club

By JACK CONWAY

BIG LEAGUE hockey will come roaring back to town tonight when the Bruins will battle the Blackhawks at the Garden in a game in which every dollar that comes in at the box office will be donated to the Disabled Veterans Fund of the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser.

The Bruins, fresh from their tie game with the New York Rangers, are confident they will conquer the Blackhawks as they did when the two teams played in Chicago. The Blackhawks, on the other hand, feel just as sure they will get revenge on the Rossmen.

Bill Cowley

While veteran Bruins like Egan, Crawford, Cowley and Cain will be in action tonight, there will also be numerous newcomers. Bennett, the new goal tender who has been playing a sensational game, will receive particular attention from the fans. He is the best goal tender Art Ross has had since Frankie Brimsek joined the Coast Guard.

There will be an abundance of rookies who are taking their first fling at big league hockey. They have sparkling speed and the burning desire to make good.

The Blackhawks, like the Bruins, have their share of veterans, but they also have many star young players.

With the local football picture dull and lacking in color, hockey will get off to its best start in the history of the National League in Boston. The fans are eager to see big league competition and the Bruins and the Blackhawks will give it to them.

Art Ross, Lt. Comdr. Weston W. Adams, and the Boston Garden management headed by Lt. Col. Walter A. Brown have joined in making tonight's game an all out effort for the Disabled Veterans Fund.

Ross has been instrumental in the Bruins raising $110,000 for war charities in Boston, and the clash between the Bruins and the Blackhawks at the Garden will send this total soaring to a new high.

It promises to be a hard, thrilling game, one that will furnish the spectacular.

* * *

FIVE MORE days and the New England racing season will be a matter of history. Rockingham Park and Pascoag both close on Saturday.

It is expected that racing interest will continue to run high through Saturday. This was indicated at Rockingham Park on Monday when an enthusiastic crowd wagered close to $500,000.

ANGOTT RETIRES AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 14 (AP)—Sammy Angott, former world's lightweight boxing champion, has announced his second retirement—but this time, say the little veteran, "I'm going to make it stick." Angott renounced his title two years ago, then staged a sensational comeback, regained the crown by whipping Luther White, and lost it to Juan Zurita in a Hollywood bout last February.

Still Seats

There are still plenty of good seats available for the Bruins' home opener against the Chicago Blackhawks tonight for the Disabled War Veterans fund.

Tickets are priced at $2.75, $2.40, $1.80 and $1.20, tax included. They may be secured at the Garden, Arena or at Jordan Marsh.

President May Shift Big Game

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (INS) — A direct appeal to President Roosevelt to transfer the Army-Navy football game from Annapolis to a big city stadium was in prospect as congressional leaders joined in a renewed drive to change the site of the annual classic.

The move followed a statement by Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early, at a news conference yesterday, that he was sure the President would keep the annual clash on a "community limited basis" because of transportation problems.

The game has been set for Dec 2 at the Naval Academy's stadium which seats about 15,000. Previous congressional efforts to shift the contest to Philadelphia or some other large city, where 60,000 or 100,000 might see it, have fizzled.

Rep. Carter Manasco (D.) of Alabama, said he would ask Speaker Sam Rayburn and House Majority Leader John McCormack to lead a House group in a final appeal to the President for a change, upon their return to the Capital tomorrow.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R.) of Massachusetts, House minority leader, said he thought it was "foolish" to limit attendents at the game to residents of the Annapolis area because of "alleged transportation difficulties."

Yale Quarterback Tackled by Mumps

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Yale football team has won games from six opponents this season without suffering a defeat but it has lost a quarterback to a germ.

The Elis woefully reported yesterday that George Loh, signal caller and forward passer, had been stricken with mumps, and won't play against North Carolina here Saturday.

Bruins Battle Hawks To Open Hub Season

By BILL GRIMES

After playing five games on the road, the Bruins open their 1944-45 home season against the Chicago Blackhawks tonight at the Boston Garden.

For the third year in a row, the Bruins are donating the entire receipts of their home-coming game to charity. Two years ago, it was the American Red Cross, last year, the Greater Boston Community Fund and the proceeds of tonight's game go to the American-Record-Advertiser Disabled Veterans' Fund.

There are absolutely no "kick backs" connected with tonight's game. Manager Art Ross has waived on the Bruins share of the "gate" and the Boston Garden's donation is the rental. There is no "free list." Every penny taken in at the box offices goes to the American-Record-Advertiser Disabled Veterans Fund. It is a 100 per cent charity affair.

Although tonight will mark their first appearance of the season on Garden ice, the Bruins have played all of the N.H.L. clubs. They went through a similar experience a year ago and the previous fall they played in Montreal, Detroit, Chicago and Toronto before opening at home.

It's rough on any N.H.L. club that has to play four and five games on foreign ice, without at least one home game.

Two years back, the Rossmen had lost four straight when they opened at home with Rangers. But, then, they began to roll, picking up 27 points out of a possible 34 in the next 17 games and eventually went to the Stanley Cup finals. When they opened at home last fall, the Bruins had victories over Toronto and Rangers and also a tie with the Canadiens to their credit. Then, they did a nose dive and didn't make the playoffs.

After losing to the Canucks Detroit and Toronto, the Rossmen chalked up their first win of the current season at the expense of the Blackhawks in Chicago. And, last Sunday night, they made a grand comeback and got a draw with Rangers, after being three goals down with eight minutes and 2 seconds to play.

ROSS HAS GOOD WINGS

There are many new faces on the Bruins. In fact, of the 25 players, who saw service a year ago, only seven are now with the club. Harvey Bennett, an 18-year-old youngster, has replaced Bert Gardiner in the nets, Jack Shewchuk, after a year in the Canadian army, has returned to his outer defense post and Frankie Mario who was tried out three years ago, then sent to Hershey, from where he went into the service is centering for the Typhoon line and Bill Jennings, an ex-Red Wing, is right winging on Bill Cowley's line.

Mgr. Art Ross has a quartet of young flankmen, who have speeded up the Bruins. They are Kenny Smith, up from Oshawa, Bill Cupolo, who played with Stratford Ont. Juniors for two years but was out of hockey last season, and Gino Rozzini and Armand Gaudreault from the Quebec Aces, who won the Allen Cup, emblematic of the amateur championship of the Dominion of Canada, last spring.

Capt. Bill Cowley will be the play maker for Herbie Cain and Bill Jennings, Frankie Mario will center for Kenny Smith and Bill Cupolo and Art Jackson will be flanked by Gino Rozzini and Armand Gaudreault. The outer defense combinations will be Coach "Dit" Clapper and Jake Shewchuk and Pat Egan and Jack Crawford, with Harvey Bennett in the nets.

During the off season, the Blackhawks lost Doug Bentley, their ace scorer, Cully Dahlstrom, George Allen and Art Weibe, so Manager Paul Thompson's boys are off to a poor start. They turned in their best game of the season on Sunday against Les Canadiens and they'll be out tonight to even up for the setback the Rossmen gave them in Chicago.

Army, Navy 1-2 In Gridiron Poll

Army and Navy, rivals in the service clash in Annapolis' tiny stadium Dec. 2, rank one-two in a strict collegiate segregation of the football teams rated in today's Associated Press poll.

Army, with 77 first place votes of a possible 106, collected 935 points Navy, beaten by North Carolina Preflight and Georgia Tech in early season games, is second with five first place nominations and 759 tallies.

For the first time since Oct. 12 1942, Notre Dame is not in the top 10 teams in the country, dropping to 11th place following the 59-to-0 setback by Army.

GREEN LOSES 3 BACKS

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 14 (AP)—Hal Clayton, Lenny Robinson and Charlie Holt, first string backs who were unable to face Coast Guard last Saturday as Dartmouth bowed, are not expected to play against Cornell Saturday.

Chestnut Mare Sold for $22,500

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 14 (AP)—A six-year-old chestnut mare, War Flower, has been sold to Miss Mildred Woolwine of Nashville, Tenn., on a high bid of $22,500.

The mare, by Man O'War out of Crotala, drew the top price at opening sessions of the Breeders' Sales Co.'s annual fall sales here yesterday. A total of 130 head of horses sold for $305,500 yesterday and last night.

Attendance Boom Boosts N.H.L. Figures

By the Associated Press

The turnstiles are clicking at their merriest pace in years around the National Hockey League's six-team circuit this season. Attendance at the first 18 games in five cities—Boston Bruins don't make their first home-ice appearance until tonight—is 36,420 greater than for the first 18 contests in the five cities a year ago.

The attendance at the 18 games this year totals 235,864, an average of 13,140 a game. The figures for last year were 199,444, an average of 11,080. Chicago has enjoyed the greatest attendance boom. The first four home games there drew 69,912 fans, 20,529 more than watched the first four games last fall.

Detroit's Red Wings, who have won three and lost three games and are third in the league standings, have drawn 46,007 fans, adrop of 1880 from last season's 47,887.

In Toronto attendance for three games has totalled 41,510, compared with 33,736 a year ago. At New York in three games it is 44,311 compared with 36,681, and at Montreal in four games it is 41,124 compared with 38,757.

Boston's home game tonight is against the Chicago Black Hawks. Bruins have won one game, tied one and lost three. Their one victory was a 6-3 conquest of Hawks in Chicago. Another mid-week game is scheduled for tomorrow with Detroit Red Wings visiting Toronto.

Ross Has Veterans and Rookies on His 1944 Club

By JACK CONWAY

BIG LEAGUE hockey will come roaring back to town tonight when the Bruins will battle the Blackhawks at the Garden in a game in which every dollar that comes in at the box office will be donated to the Disabled Veterans Fund of the American-Record-Sunday Advertiser.

The Bruins, fresh from their tie game with the New York Rangers, are confident they will conquer the Blackhawks as they did when the two teams played in Chicago. The Blackhawks, on the other hand, feel just as sure they will get revenge on the Rossmen.

Bill Cowley

While veteran Bruins like Egan, Crawford, Cowley and Cain will be in action tonight, there will also be numerous newcomers. Bennett, the new goal tender who has been playing a sensational game, will receive particular attention from the fans. He is the best goal tender Art Ross has had since Frankie Brimsek joined the Coast Guard.

There will be an abundance of rookies who are taking their first fling at big league hockey. They have sparkling speed and the burning desire to make good.

The Blackhawks, like the Bruins, have their share of veterans, but they also have many star young players.

With the local football picture dull and lacking in color, hockey will get off to its best start in the history of the National League in Boston. The fans are eager to see big league competition and the Bruins and the Blackhawks will give it to them.

Art Ross, Lt. Comdr. Weston W. Adams, and the Boston Garden management headed by Lt. Col. Walter A. Brown have joined in making tonight's game an all out effort for the Disabled Veterans Fund.

Ross has been instrumental in the Bruins raising $110,000 for war charities in Boston, and the clash between the Bruins and the Blackhawks at the Garden will send this total soaring to a new high.

It promises to be a hard, thrilling game, one that will furnish the spectacular.

★ ★ ★

FIVE MORE days and the New England racing season will be a matter of history. Rockingham Park and Pascoag both close on Saturday.

It is expected that racing interest will continue to run high through Saturday. This was indicated at Rockingham Park on Monday when an enthusiastic crowd wagered close to $500,000.

ANGOTT RETIRES AGAIN

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 14 (AP)—Sammy Angott, former world's lightweight boxing champion, has announced his second retirement—but this time, say the little veteran, "I'm going to make it stick." Angott renounced his title two years ago, then staged a sensational comeback, regained the crown by whipping Luther White, and lost it to Juan Zurita in a Hollywood bout last February.

Still Seats

There are still plenty of good seats available for the Bruins' home opener against the Chicago Blackhawks tonight for the Disabled War Veterans fund.

Tickets are priced at $2.75, $2.40, $1.80 and $1.20, tax included. They may be secured at the Garden, Arena or at Jordan Marsh.

President May Shift Big Game

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (INS) — A direct appeal to President Roosevelt to transfer the Army-Navy football game from Annapolis to a big city stadium was in prospect as congressional leaders joined in a renewed drive to change the site of the annual classic.

The move followed a statement by Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early, at a news conference yesterday, that he was sure the President would keep the annual clash on a "community limited basis" because of transportation problems.

The game has been set for Dec. 2 at the Naval Academy's stadium which seats about 15,000. Previous congressional efforts to shift the contest to Philadelphia or some other large city, where 60,000 or 100,000 might see it, have fizzled.

Rep. Carter Manasco (D.) of Alabama, said he would ask Speaker Sam Rayburn and House Majority Leader John McCormack to lead a House group in a final appeal to the President for a change, upon their return to the Capital tomorrow.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R.) of Massachusetts, House minority leader, said he thought it was "foolish" to limit attendents at the game to residents of the Annapolis area because of "alleged transportation difficulties."

Yale Quarterback Tackled by Mumps

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Yale football team has won games from six opponents this season without suffering a defeat, but it has lost a quarterback to a germ.

The Elis woefully reported yesterday that George Loh, signal caller and forward passer, had been stricken with mumps, and won't play against North Carolina here Saturday.

Bruins Battle Hawks To Open Hub Season

By BILL GRIMES

After playing five games on the road, the Bruins open their 1944-45 home season against the Chicago Blackhawks tonight at the Boston Garden.

For the third year in a row, the Bruins are donating the entire receipts of their home-coming game to charity. Two years ago, it was the American Red Cross, last year, the Greater Boston Community Fund and the proceeds of tonight's game go to the American-Record-Advertiser Disabled Veterans' Fund.

There are absolutely no "kick backs" connected with tonight's game. Manager Art Ross has waived on the Bruins share of the "gate" and the Boston Garden's donation is the rental. There is no "free list." Every penny taken in at the box offices goes to the American-Record-Advertiser Disabled Veterans Fund. It is a 100 per cent charity affair.

Although tonight will mark their first appearance of the season on Garden ice, the Bruins have played all of the N.H.L. clubs. They went through a similar experience a year ago and the previous fall they played in Montreal, Detroit, Chicago and Toronto before opening at home.

It's rough on any N.H.L. club that has to play four and five games on foreign ice, without at least one home game.

Two years back, the Rossmen had lost four straight when they opened at home with Rangers. But, then, they began to roll, picking up 27 points out of a possible 34 in the next 17 games and eventually went to the Stanley Cup finals. When they opened at home last fall, the Bruins had victories over Toronto and Rangers and also a tie with the Canadiens to their credit. Then, they did a nose dive and didn't make the playoffs.

After losing to the Canucks, Detroit and Toronto, the Rossmen chalked up their first win of the current season at the expense of the Blackhawks in Chicago. And, last Sunday night, they made a grand comeback and got a draw with Rangers, after being three goals down with eight minutes and 2 seconds to play.

ROSS HAS GOOD WINGS

There are many new faces on the Bruins. In fact, of the 25 players, who saw service a year ago, only seven are now with the club. Harvey Bennett, an 18-year-old youngster, has replaced Bert Gardiner in the nets, Jack Shewchuk, after a year in the Canadian army, has returned to his outer defense post and Frankie Mario, who was tried out three years ago, then sent to Hershey, from where he went into the service, is centering for the Typhoon line and Bill Jennings, an ex-Red Wing, is right winging on Bill Cowley's line.

Mgr. Art Ross has a quartet of young flankmen, who have speeded up the Bruins. They are Kenny Smith, up from Oshawa, Bill Cupolo, who played with Stratford, Ont. Juniors for two years but was out of hockey last season, and Gino Rozzini and Armand Gaudreault from the Quebec Aces, who won the Allen Cup, emblematic of the amateur championship of the Dominion of Canada, last spring.

Capt. Bill Cowley will be the play maker for Herbie Cain and Bill Jennings, Frankie Mario will center for Kenny Smith and Bill Cupolo and Art Jackson will be flanked by Gino Rizzini and Armand Gaudreault. The outer defense combinations will be Coach "Dit" Clapper and Jake Shewchuk and Pat Egan and Jack Crawford, with Harvey Bennett in the nets.

During the off season, the Blackhawks lost Doug Bentley, their ace scorer, Cully Dahlstrom, George Allen and Art Weibe, so Manager Paul Thompson's boys are off to a poor start. They turned in their best game of the season on Sunday against Les Canadiens and they'll be out tonight to even up for the setback the Rossmen gave them in Chicago.

Army, Navy 1-2 In Gridiron Poll

Army and Navy, rivals in the service clash in Annapolis' tiny stadium Dec. 2, rank one-two in a strict collegiate segregation of the football teams rated in today's Associated Press poll.

Army, with 77 first place votes of a possible 106, collected 935 points. Navy, beaten by North Carolina Preflight and Georgia Tech in early season games, is second with five first place nominations and 759 tallies.

For the first time since Oct. 12, 1942, Notre Dame is not in the top 10 teams in the country, dropping to 11th place following the 59-to-0 setback by Army.

Attendance Boom Boosts N.H.L. Figures

By the Associated Press

The turnstiles are clicking at their merriest pace in years around the National Hockey League's six-team circuit this season. Attendance at the first 18 games in five cities—Boston Bruins don't make their first home-ice appearance until tonight—is 36,420 greater than for the first 18 contests in the five cities a year ago.

The attendance at the 18 games this year totals 235,864, an average of 13,140 a game. The figures for last year were 199,444, an average of 11,080. Chicago has enjoyed the greatest attendance boom. The first four home games there drew 69,912 fans, 20,529 more than watched the first four games last fall.

Detroit's Red Wings, who have won three and lost three games and are third in the league standings, have drawn 46,007 fans, adrop of 1880 from last season's 47,887.

In Toronto attendance for three games has totalled 41,510, compared with 33,736 a year ago. At New York in three games it is 44,311 compared with 36,681, and at Montreal in four games it is 41,124 compared with 38,757.

Boston's home game tonight is against the Chicago Black Hawks. Bruins have won one game, tied one and lost three. Their one victory was a 6-3 conquest of Hawks in Chicago. Another midwek game is scheduled for tomorrow with Dearoit Red Wings visiting Toronto.

Greek Giant Sermos New Somerville Whiz

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Somerville High School is the toast of the schoolboy football ranks—and well it may be after its brilliant (7-0) victory over previously undefeated Malden this past weekend—so as a result, Coach Tom Lynch was a guest of the weekly Sportswriters Luncheon at the Hotel Kenmore to tell the experts how it was done.

The former Holy Cross gridman spoke of having the strongest line he'd seen this season "from tackle to tackle" but he neglected to tell the story of his 216-pound fullback, Plato Sermos.

This 6 foot 2 inch Greek boy scored the touchdown that beat Malden. He went through a hole that wasn't in the Malden line, relying on his tremendous strength, his driving power and his will to win to carry him the final 2 yards to pay dirt. It was his third smash into the Tornado line in which he carried the ball 11 of the 12 yards required to tally the only marker of the afternoon.

The remarkable part of it was that Saturday marked the second time in a week that Sermos had put on his football togs!

There's a lot of talk about the pro Yanks working afternoons so that they're unable to learn signals for their weekly games. They're no worse off than Sermos, the main support of his family now that illness has hit his father and mother. Sermos practices one day a week—usually Friday—when he learns plays, signals and all other detail that Coach Lynch has outlined for that week's game.

FRAN ROONEY LEAVES

Last week was no different. He worked at his coal and ice business Monday through Thursday, reported to practice Friday to study the 45 assignments arranged for the Malden game. Sermos went into a huddle with his understudy, Bill Aviszus, who sacrifices his chances of getting into a game by thoroughly schooling Sermos in the week's work.

It's such co-operation, typifying Somerville's football team, which made the triumph over Malden more conspicuous.

And just a word about Fran Rooney. He joined the Coast Guard yesterday so that he may not be around by Thanksgiving Day to play against Rindge Tech and for the post-season game that Somerville is trying to arrange. His greatest value against Malden was as a decoy and he was perfectly satisfied with this role just so long as his team won.

Rooney felt partly responsible for his team's loss to Chelsea in the opening game. He absorbed punishment for this setback with plenty of spirit, running up and down the practise field for the next week without looking back, just to get in the habit. He worked with the second team as further proof that a ball carrier needed a line in front of him before he could pick up yardage.

And he came through it all a better back and a nicer kid.

Eagles Settle Down For HC Preparation

Two weeks of hard, serious practice is in store for the Boston College grid squad who will meet the Crusaders of Holy Cross on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 26, at Fenway Park in a renewal of the annual New England Jesuit football classic.

BC has an open date next week and the extra week of practice will be welcomed by Moody Sarno, Eagle mentor, to iron out the flaws which were evident in their running attack against Brooklyn last Sunday. Their pass defense was not of the best and Brooklyn took advantage of the fact to score three touchdowns on aerials. Numerous fumbles also caused the BC running attack to bog down and Coach Sarno will need the extra week of preparation for the tough Hoyas.

The Purple has a game with the Melville PT "Night Raiders" on next Sunday. According to the Holy Cross material and performances this season it will probably be rated as the favorites for the coming tilt. The return of Leo Troy at the end slot has bolstered the Worcester team's morale.

John Callahan viewed the Brooklyn game from the stands but reported to Sarno after the game in the dressing room. Callahan's injured shoulder has been removed from a sling and Sarno told him to report to practice this afternoon. Callahan suffered the injury in the NYU game and may be back in trim in time to see action against "the Cross." Lou Sammartino, former first string guard, may also be back for the game.

JOE ELLIOTT LOOKED GOOD

Two particular bright spots on the B.C. team against the Flatbush team were the play of Lefty Ed Walsh and Joe Elliot in the Eagle backfield. Walsh was a standout in the quick opening plays off tackle and was the author of a 92-yard run which proved to be the winning margin. Elliot is the B.C. high scorer and two more touchdowns on Sunday boosted his total to seven for the season. He was by far the most efficient Eagle running back on the field against Brooklyn.

Tom Seymour at the quarterback post also played a great part in the B.C. win. Inserted in the third quarter in place of Englert, the converted halfback gave the team a new spirit.

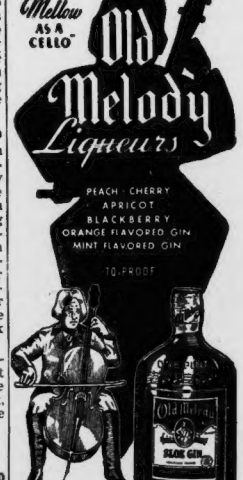
GARBARK GOES BACK

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Connie Mack, owner of the Athletics, announced yesterday that he has sold Catcher Bob Garbark to Louisville.



Full Power for Yanks Sunday

For the first time since their great battle against the Washington Redskins, the Boston Yanks will be at full strength when they return home to face the Brooklyn Tigers at Fenway Park next Sunday.

Proof that the Yanks are a far better club than some critics believe, came last week-end in Chicago when Herb Kopf had George Cafego and Scotty Gudmundson, his triple threat backs, ready for action. The Yanks gave the Bears a real scare, so much so that after the game, Chicago officials insisted that the Boston outfit had been much tougher to down than Green Bay had been the week before.

Despite the fact that the Yanks nipped the Tigers earlier in the season, 17-14, Herb remembers that his club wasn't able to run against the rock-ribbed Brooklyn defense and that the Tiger forward wall gave his passers plenty of trouble all afternoon.

$115,000 Lure Awaiting Pros

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP) — There'll be a $115,000 lure—both war bond and cash variety — scattered around golf's golden trail during the winter and early spring.

Fred J. Corcoran, manager of the tournament bureau of the Professional Golfers' Ass'n outlined the ambitious and packed schedule at opening sessions of the organization's 28th Annual National Convention today.

He also expressed the possibility the Masters' Tournament at Augusta, Ga., a war-time casualty, might be revived in the spring.

Pimlico Shows Swell Double

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP)—A $1,673.90 daily double, largest of the current Pimlico meeting, was returned yesterday to 18 holders of tickets on Mrs. G. O. Russell's Church Supper and Mrs. L. M. Hanson's Lee's Jimmie, winners of the first and second races, respectively.

Church Supper scored by two lengths over J. P. Harris' Busy Man, pace setter for most of the way. The winner paid $132 for $2.

Lee's Jimmie paid $24.90 after he headed F. A. Piarulli's Hayai Tinty.

Pentagon Stable's The Doge, son of Bull Dog and My Auntie, easily won the first division of the Endurance Handicap in 1:43 4-5 over a fast track by a length from the favored Calumet Farms' Pot O'Luck. George D. Widener's Sir Francis was third. The Doge, carrying 117 pounds, paid $14.20 and earned $9425 for the mile and 70 yards.

Calumet's Hail Victory closed fast to take the second half of the split feature from Mrs. P. A. B. Widener's Polynesian, the favorite, running the distance in 1:44 under 110 pounds. Bymeabond, owned by E. R. Bradley, was third. Hail Victory earned $9225 in his first stakes win.

CORNELL IS WEAKENED

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP) — Cornell University's gridders will battle Dartmouth Saturday without left guard Chuck Palmer and right guard George Williams.

Palmer, whose shoulder was dislocated in last Saturday's game with Navy, has been shelved for the season. Williams has been called for induction

Blaik Orders Rest After Pouring It On

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP)—Coach Earl "Red" Blaik gave his triumphant Army football gridders a day of rest today.

Two members of the squad came out of the Notre Dame game on the injured list, but neither are key members of the high powered T-attack.

Bill Yancey, alternate tackle, will be lost for the remainder of the season as a result of a cracked fibula, just below the knee. John Sauer, the shortest man on the squad, broke a bone in his left forearm and will be sidelined for 10 days, according to Trainer Roland "Beaves" Bevans. Sauer is the defensive right halfback who was so adept at intercepting Notre Dame's aerials.
